Hi Jack:

Perfect timing. Yes we plan to hold a call to share more about the format and questions to expect. Matt and Kelley (cc'd here) will set that up.

Thanks,

Todd

Todd,
Is it possible to have a short call to discuss what you like me to talk to?
Jack

Hello Jack:

Thank you for your call last Friday to confirm your availability to participate in the "Fireside Chat" at the AWS All Hands Meeting for the State & Local Government organization. Here are a few details about the event:

Date: Tuesday, December 18th
Time: 5:00 to 6:00pm ET (followed by a reception)

Location: The Westin Arlington Gateway Hotel
F. Scott Fitzgerald Ballroom – 2nd Floor
801 N Glebe Rd, Arlington, VA 22203

Parking: There is valet parking at the hotel, and several parking decks nearby, including at the Cooperative Plaza two blocks to the East at 900 N. Taylor Street.

Metro: As you know, the Westin is a two block walk west of the Ballston Metro stop.

Reception: 6pm to ~8pm ET immediately outside the F. Scott Fitzgerald Ballroom
This is optional, but we hope you can join at least a portion.

Format: This will be an informal and interactive session during which Kim Majerus, the nationwide leader of State & Local Government at AWS, moderates a discussion with both you and with Frank Johnson, CIO of the City of Baltimore City.

Amazon's culture is centered on written and spoken "narratives", so there is no need to prepare Powerpoint slides. Kim will start by asking you to share a short description about your background, role as CIO and top challenges followed by interview-style questions. She will also invite questions from the audience of approximately 90 sales professionals, solution architects, technology specialists, and support functions such as legal and finance.

Next Steps: We are planning a short call to share some potential audience questions with you and to answer any remaining questions you have. More details to follow about that.

Thank you again, and please reply with any questions you have.

Best Regards,

Todd
