Hello, Christina.

To reiterate Andrea's note, thank you for organizing such a successful, positive kick-off meeting last week. (I have never been in a project meeting with public officials where there was so much laughter!)

Re your question, NBBJ and the project team does not share that deck and prefers to share it in person as we did last week. Sorry. Are there any specific images your team would like to see again?

Our request for your slides, came from me. I am ramping up a new team member and thought the background slides from Bob and other would be helpful (but not critical if there is reluctance to share).

Thanks again.
Todd

Yes - are you able to share your slides?
