Katie,

As a follow up to the meeting last week – I wanted to offer that if you want anyone from JBGS at any public forums or conversations, please feel free to ask. I'm happy to join and participate if you think it would be helpful to the events.

Best, Andy

Carol,

Adding my thanks and agreement with your comments, as well.

As I was mentioning to Bryna on Friday, I thought the meeting managed to be a truly constructive conversation without feeling inauthentic to some of the very real community concerns about Amazon. I hope we see a similar mix of questions and ideas in future conversations.

I know that outcome reflected your skillful expectations-setting and facilitation. Thank you!

Katie

Thank you all for your great participation in the panel last night. That was the biggest turnout we've ever had for a CCCA meeting. And, judging from the questions and the sign-in sheets, the majority of folks were from Crystal City and the 22202 zip code.

The meeting turned out better than I expected. The questions were good and the folks were respectful--that doesn't always happen when folks are nervous, as I'm sure you well know. Also, many folks commented afterwards how appreciative they were for the panel and your responses to questions.

As soon as you send me information on the upcoming public meetings, I will share them with our members and on our social media. (Our monthly Newsletter goes out tomorrow.) Keep in mind that Nextdoor.com is also a great place to advertise since it's a bulletin board tailored to specific neighborhoods. Some County folks are using it now, but not all.

Best wishes for the holidays.
Carol
