Hi Gwen,
Understood; the furniture vendor will submit a layout for the separate permit. We understand that no review is required if they submit a copy of the layout that was approved under the building permit and noting on the application referencing the approved permit submittal.
Have a great weekend.
Gina

Gina,
Thank you for the update, however, I do want to ensure that everyone are not misunderstandings about the process for permitting systems furniture. As noted in my previous email.

Systems Furniture:

Note: The vendor will need to submit a furniture layout for the separate permit. No review is required if they submit a copy of the layout that was approved under the building permit and noting on the application ““Already Reviewed and Approved Under Building Permit #B-----””.

Gina,

Thank you for the meeting notes and project schedule. One of the items on the meeting notes should be modified:

From:

· Mechanical, Electrical, and Plumbing permit intake will all occur simultaneously with architectural intake.

TO:

· Mechanical, Electrical, and Plumbing review will all occur simultaneously with architectural intake. Permits can be obtained after building permit approval and issuance/no drawings required.

Systems Furniture:

Note: The vendor will need to submit a furniture layout for the separate permit. No review is required if they submit a copy of the layout that was approved under the building permit and noting on the application ""Already Reviewed and Approved Under Building Permit #B-----".
